John Skelton and Secretary Lord to King Henry

Introduction/Context

John Skelton was a poet and diplomat who lived from 1461 to 1529. He was a key figure in the Northern and Southern Courts, although there were some conflicts along with his political career. He lived in the 15th and 16th centuries in England. The text is a letter from Skelton to King Henry VIII, written in 1529. It discusses the state of the kingdom and the need for reform. Skelton was a member of the Northern Court and was known for his satirical and political poetry. He was also a diplomat and served as Secretary of State to King Henry VIII. The letter is a response to a request from the King for a report on the state of the kingdom. Skelton discusses the need for reform in the government and the church, and offers his own suggestions for improvement. He also discusses the state of the kingdom's finances and the need for a more efficient system of taxation. The letter is a significant document in the history of the Northern and Southern Courts, and it provides a valuable insight into the political and social conditions of the time.
